MAN CAUGHT IN A ROBBERY GAME

Thomas Overton of Monessen Apprehended By Officers As He Was Going Through Pockets of One John Shenan

IS A SEQUEL OF PAY DAY

Charged That Overton Took Advantage of Payday in Pittsburgh Steel And Cultivated Acquaintance — His Case Is Quickly Disposed Of

Thomas Overton, 29, of rear 857 Schoonmaker avenue, Monessen, employed as construction worker on the new parochial school of that city, is on his way to Greensburg this afternoon to await the next term of criminal court, following an attempted holdup alleged by him this morning at 10:30 in Wireton.

It was payday at the Pittsburgh Steel today, and Overton, believing he could make some easy money, chose John Shehan of 1462 Schoonmaker avenue, as his victim. He became friendly with Shenan, engaged him in conversation, and while walking up the street threw his arm about Shenan in a good fellowship manner and at the same time was going through his victim's pockets. A passerby noticed Overton's actions and called the police, who responded immediately, and caught the man in the act. He had secured a part of Shenan's money, which was later returned to the man.

Overton was placed under arrest, was in jail at 11 o'clock, had a hearing at 11 30, and at 12 o'clock was on his way to Greensburg.

"I WANT TO ATONE FOR MY SIN" SAYS POISONING PASTOR

"Mob justice" is feared by authorities in Mount Vernon, Ill., in the cases of the Rev Lawrence Hight and Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, who confessed that they were responsible for the deaths by poison of Hight's wife and Mrs. Sweetin's husband, and the prisoners are being closely guarded. Above, Hight (left) is shown being questioned by (left to right) Coroner Jesse A Reese, Sheriff Grant Holcomb and State's Attorney Frank G Thompson Below is a reproduction of a photo showing Hight with a young woman whom he refuses to name and (right) a photo of Wilford Sweetin one of the victims.

Nashville, Illinois, Sept. 25.—Lawrence M. Hight, the 'poisoning pastor," clinging to the bars of his cell in the Washington county jail, today told the United Press that he would throw himself on the mercy of the court.

"I am repentant Whatever they do with me will be all right. I want to atone for my sin," he said.

Referring to the motives which led him to poison the wife to whom he had been married 26 years and to instigate the poisoning of Wilford Sweeten, the miner with whose wife he had fallen in love when he first met her in the Methodist Episcopal church at Ina, six months ago, the circuit rider said:

"The devil pulled me along. I don't know why I did it I have lost all hope now. The entire world has deserted me." and he suggestively fingered the collarless neck of his clean white shirt.

"I want to be a good prisoner," he added "And I am going to write to my congregation at Ina to beg their forgiveness."

The 49-year-old pastor was confident and smiling when he left the court house at Mount Vernon. Today he nervously paces the floor of the large jail cell which he shares with two negroes.

Hight told the United Press that he had no word from any of his children since the morning he confessed that he had poisoned their mother by putting arsenic in the coffee he served at her bedside while she was ill.

"My wife was a good woman—in her way," the pastor said "But she was always nagging at me. When I was preparing my sermons, she would continually irritate me by talking about small affairs She was never

Local Lady Sees The West In Its Grandeur

Miss Lois Darby, daughter of Health Officer William M. Darby, returned yesterday noon from a trip to Glacier National Park, Montana.

Miss Darby was accompanied west by a couple of lady friends from Pittsburgh. The young lady spent two weeks at the park, and a fortnight in the city of Chicago, the trio leaving Pittsburgh on August 23.

In conversation with Miss Darby, the lady said that the trip was a most wonderful one, one that any person having the time, the money, and being physically able to take it, could hardly afford to miss. She was of the opinion that the trip to either Glacier National park or Yellowstone National park is better and more beneficial than one to Atlantic City, replete as it is with more or less of the artificial. Miss Darby was particularly enthusiastic about Glacier National park, where Nature is seen in all its grandeur. While the park has government protection, Uncle Sam has not displayed the artificial hand as he has at Yellowstone National park In the Yellowstone park one can travel by automobile or by other comfortable vehicular traffic, but in Glacier National park one must pursue his course by horseback, riding steep mountain trails overlooking abysses which a misstep of the animal would mean his being dashed to destruction thousands of feet below. Miss Darby said that the park is alive with grizzly bear, mountain goats, big birds as fine as she saw in Lincoln Park in Chicago, and more impressive, as they are seen in their primitive and wild state; immense eagles, and even wild horses are to be seen Distances are deceptive and the air, while rarified, is wonderfully invigorating permitting her to walk in one instance a distance of 14 miles without fatigue.

Miss Darby also paid her respects to the Blackfoot Indian reservation, the largest of its kind in the world. The chiefs and Indians from this reservation went to California and assisted in the picturization of "The Covered Wagon" recently shown to hundreds of delighted home people at the Coyle theatre.

In the 72-hole Medal Golf tourney, under handicap, which was concluded yesterday, the President's cup, presented to the winner by Kerfoot W. Daly, president of the club, the valued trophy was won by Harry Breneiser of Bentleyville. Mr. Breneiser had a net score of 274. This year the club has proven very capable entertainers to the Greensburg, Youghiogheny Country club, South Hills, Uniontown Monongahela and Wheeling clubs.

The Nemacolin club has most excellent prospects. It is building a $100-0000 club house, which is nearly completed and the prospects for next year are very bright.

A Bad Check Artist Works His Game On Mon. City Merchants

A bad check artist visited Monongahela Saturday and Monday afternoon, pursuing the plan which is time-worn in this section—that of passing checks on unsuspecting merchants and proprietors of business houses Eighteen checks were passed. The amount of each check varied, the lowest found in Monongahela banks being for $8, and the largest, $58.

The checks were drawn on a Monongahela bank, with the signature of J. T. Boot. Following a check-up it was found that no such account existed in any of the Monongahela banks, and the authorities were notified.

The authorities are searching for the man, but we believe so far without success. We understand that they have his description. It is estimated that within the last six months Monongahela merchants have lost fully $2,000 through worthless checks cashed by them.

Jury Sitting On Cases, Say Deaths Due To Accidents

Coroner William Greenlee conducted investigations yesterday into two violent deaths, which occurred during the last few weeks, a verdict of accidental being returned in each instance.

The first death inquired into was that of Theodore Roosevelt Lyons, aged nine, son of George Lyons, of Denbo, school boy who was killed while running across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks from the playgrounds to the school.

A recommendation was made by the jury that an underground passageway be constructed so that school children would not be traveling across the tracks.

The other death inquired into was that of Miss Odelia Johnson, of Brownsville, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident on the Bentleyville-Charleroi road on September 9. She leaped from [illegible] when an accident seemed [illegible]

Season Tickets For High School Foot Ball Games Are Now On Sale

Yesterday the sale of football season tickets was opened. Preston Robertson and Bennie Trnavsky canvassed the business section during the afternoon. The following business houses are selling season tickets:

Piper's Pharmacy, Hennings' Drug Store, George S. Might Sons, Buchanan's Pool Room, John Sutch Cigar Store.

The price of these patron season tickets has been reduced this season and for $2.50 one may attend six home games.

The athletic council is burdened [illegible] son and it is expected that receipts from the sale of season tickets will help to reduce this amount.

The students are responding very well thus far and it is necessary that these tickets, both student and patrons, be purchased before the game Saturday with the California Normal Reserves.

Coach Allison of the Normal has not given out his line-up for the game Saturday. However, he has assured the management that his team will be made up of boys that have come in this year with strong high school reputations. Complaints have been heard from some quarters that this game should not have been scheduled on account of the strength of the Normal squad. Judging from appearances at the Bentleyville practice game what the Charleroi squad needs is work and lots of it. They will get that for the next four weeks plenty. Let-ups have proved bad things for our squad. This year the squad will have to play harder football to win and play it more often than last year because the order of the shedule demands it.

A large crowd is looked for on Saturday. An extra squad of men will be engaged to patrol the field as the fence birds are flocking much too early this season. Drastic measures will be in order if this is not eliminated this week. The high school is furnishing fans with good football and charging the minimum price to carry on an athletic programme. Co-operation along this line will be appreciated. Crowds on the fence will weaken it. The Charleroi Baseball Association has worked hard to give the community a field and it is up to that more indifferent element of the crowd to respect the rights of the lessees and keep off the fence or suffer the consequences.

The place to secure that well-groomed appearance, Ideal Beauty Parlor now open and ready for business again. 77tf

AD STONE EARNS PAPER DECISION OVER STRIBLING

By a furious finish in the final round during which he sent his opponent to the floor, without a count, Ad Stone of Paterson, N. J., earned a newspaper decision overYoung Stribling of Macon, Ga., in the 12-round light heavyweight fight at Newark, N. J., last night.

Stribling's speed and use of a [illegible] left jab had [illegible] Stone's punches to body during the first 11 rounds of fast action punctuated by frequent clinches when they came up for the last frame the Georgian was atop of his opponent for the first few moments, but Stone fought his way out and caught Stribling off balance with a left hook which sent him to the floor.

BROG TO MEET JOHNNY KING AT TUBE CITY

Vic Brog of Pittsburgh and Johnny King of Fayette City clash tonight at the Palisades rink, McKeesport in the 10-round main bout of the Majestic club's weekly boxing show

Brog, a native Pittsburgher, has been campaigning in the east for a year, under the direction of Scotty Monteith, and is eager to show the home folks that he has improved greatly.

In tackling Brog, King is assuming a job of real proportions, but he professes to be supremely confident of his ability to face the issue without disaster The rivals will weigh in at 3 o'clock this afternoon, having agreed to make 147 pounds at that hour, a figure each should reach without any great difficulty.

The semifinal is also a classy offering with Teddy Esterbrook of Niles, O., and Chuck Doris of Detroit furnishing the fireworks. They will weigh in at 158 pounds this afternoon. Esterbrook has performed before in the Tube City and has many friends there

The second number is between Andy Stahura of Braddock and Joe Novak of the Willow Club 128-pounders This is Novak's first professional bout and he can be depended upon to extend himself in an endeavor to show at his best

The opener will bring together Tommy Murphy of Canonsburg and Tony Tortoise of Elizabeth, 116-pound lads The show opens at 8 o'clock and the advance sale of tickets augurs well for a big turnout.

Looks Like Fourth Flag For McGraw; Pirates Eliminated For The Flag

Yesterday's doings in the National League indicate that the pennant flag will fly from either side of the Brooklyn Bridge. The Giants beat the Bucs and the Dodgers nosed out the Cubs. The Pirates' chances are forlorn; the Dodgers are a good long shot—but no more.

In the American League Washington verified suspicions of fans in the Capital that the flag is "in" by defeating the White Sox. The Yankees shut out Cleveland, but the two game lead that separates the pair with each having only four more games to play looms larger daily.

The Pirates seem destined for third place in this 1924 fight. Six games remain on the Pittsburgh schedule. Brooklyn has but two and the Giants have four. For Pittsburgh to finish on top after yesterday's defeat the Giants would have to lose three of their remaining four games and on top of that unlikely event the Bucs would have to win their six engagements. Also, the Dodgers would have to be eliminated from second place by losing one of their two games which still are on the boards.

Brooklyn's chances are slightly better. Should McGraw lost two more games and the Robins take their pair of contests the two neighbors would be even for the season's honors. The Pirates could still win their six remaining games and finish no better than third. In case New York loses two of four, Brooklyn wins two and the Bucs win six, the final standing would be

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Brooklyn | 93 | 61 | .604 |
| New York | 93 | 61 | .604 |
| Pittsburgh | 92 | 61 | .601 |

New York meets the Pirates again today, then faces Philadelphia in three games.

Brooklyn's two games are with Boston and the Pirates leave New York to combat the Cubs. Should the Bucs take today's game then the Giants would have to sweep the Phil series to avoid a season deadlock with the Dodgers, provided your Uncle Robbie's men win their two with the Braves. The Phils have been capable of bothering the champions ever since McGraw asked the world, through the newspapers, if Philadelphia was still in the National League.

Chances are that the Yanks secretly have given up home of beating out those pesky Senators. Each club has four games to play and should the Nats do no better than break even, the New Yorks could tie for pennant honors only by winning all four. Today is an open date for both clubs.

Tragic

Little George came to his mother apparently in great distress of mind.

"Why, what is the matter, sonny boy?" she sympathetically inquired.

Sun's Strange Rotation

The sun does not rotate like a solid body, all parts of which move together. A spot near the equator completes a rotation (if it exists so long) in about 25 days, while one at 45 latitude takes about two and a half days longer to return to the central meridian. Nearer the poles the rotation period is still longer.—George Ellery Hale in "Sun-Spots as Magnets."

Tenpins, Not Rolling Pins

Women are taking a more active part than ever in bowling this year, according to state and national officials checking up on early season activities. Mrs. Theresa Schmitt of Louisville, Ky., recently rang up a score of 256. She captains a woman's team there.

PENNANT HOPES ARE BLASTED AS GIANTS AGAIN BEAT PIRATES

Pittsburgh's steadily fading pennant hopes again yesterday were dashed upon the rocks when the Giants made it two straight by downing their old foemen, 4 to 2, although they were outbatted by the Pirates.

Earl Smith produced both the Buccaneer tallies by hitting for the circuit, a feat which also was performed once by Lou Wilson, center fielder of the Giants. All three of these four-sackers came from wallops into the grandstand, but in each instance the aisles were clear.

Virgin Barnes pitched the entire game for New York, and while he was in tiptop form, he was touched for nine safe smashes, but when men were on bases he always tightened up and became so effective that the only way to do any damage appeared to be by driving the ball completely out of the lot.

Emil Yde was the hurler chosen by Bill McKechnie and while the sturdy Oklahoma southpaw let the leaders down with six swats, his support crumbled just when he was in trouble and a wild peg by Pie Traynor made when two were out led to a pair of runs which were not earned, but these decided the contest and placed the Giants where they cannot be headed now unless something like a double miracle is wrought.

Yde was removed to try a pinch hitter in the seventh, but Walter Mueller, who did the emergency stunt merely perished on a grounder as many of his mates had done. Johnny Morrison, who worked the last two chapters, kept the Giants' bats perfectly silent, as they were helpless before his clever curving.

COOLIDGE-DAWES THIMBLES FOR THE LADIES

With the advent of the women in politics has come the campaign thimble to run hand in hand with the campaign button which held sway exclusively in the days when men alone had the vote. Thousands of little thimbles of white metal circled with a blue enameled band and bearing the names "Coolidge-Dawes," have already made their way into homes in the East and they are becoming increasingly popular.

The new emblem has aroused a wave of interest among women, who feel that the thimble is not only of practical use to them, but that it is a more dignified party badge than a button.

The thimbles serves as a reminder of the campaign, so that women in sewing circles find it convenient to discuss Republican issues while they continued with household mending or other sewing. They often do not have time for political meetings and the thimble has been the means of prompting them to political discussion that otherwise would not occur to them.

The campaign thimble was first introduced two years ago in Kentucky by Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, leader of Republican women voters in America. It was first distributed in the present campaign at a meeting of the Coolidge-Dawes club in Rochester, N. Y.

LOCAL MEN HEAR CONGRESSMAN BURTON

Congressman Theodore E. Burton, of Cleveland, Ohio, addressed a Republican rally, in the ball room of the George Washington Hotel, Washington, at noon luncheon today. Following the meeting in Washington Mr. Burton immediately left for Waynesburg where he will address a big Republican rally in the opera house tonight. Quite a number of Charleroi people went to Washington this morning to hear Mr. Burton talk on the issues of the campaign. Among those going were K. W. Daly, Walter Byerly, John K. Tener, J. E. Masters, S. D. R. Hill and J. W. Mathias.

Is Your Blood Hungry for Iron?

Iron Is The Red Blood Food That Gives You Strength, Energy and Power—How To Make The Test That Tells

Actual blood tests show that a tremendously large number of people who are weak and ill lack iron in their blood and that they ... for no other reason than lack of iron. Iron deficiency paralyzes healthy, forceful action, pulls down the whole organism and weakens the entire system. A pale face, a nervous irritable disposition, a lack of strength and endurance and the inability to cope with the strong, vigorous folks in the race of life—these are the sort of warning signals that Nature gives when the blood is getting thin, pale, watery and literally starving for want of iron. If you are not sure of your condition, go to your doctor and have him take your blood count and see where you stand or else make the following test yourself: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired; next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. By enriching the blood and creating new red blood cells, Nuxated Iron strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and helps to instill renewed energy and power into the whole system.

Unlike the older inorganic iron products Nuxated Iron is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

MOTORISTS ADVISED ON HEADLIGHT LAW

At a recent meeting of auto dealers, held in Washington, Pa., Corporal Robert S. Ruppert, assisted by Patrolmen Young and Emerick of the State Highway Patrol, explained the condition with which motorists must comply relative to electric headlights.

To conform with the laws and at the same time have good road illumination, the highway patrol makes the following four suggestions Use an approved type of lens; use 21-candle power bulbs only; have the electric bulbs in focus; have the headlamps aimed correctly.

Sufficient time will be given motorists to comply with state headlight requirements as to equipment and adjustment which are intended to provide proper focus and tilt to the lamps and eliminate all objectionable glare or dazzle. The license numbers of motorists who do not join in with the state officials in this effort to make the highways safer, will be noted, and a severe penalty inflicted on the offenders.

Printed instructions for the proper adjustment of headlamps will be furnished by the Department of Highways, Automobile Division, Harrisburg, on request; or car owners may consult a dealer who knows how to make headlights comply with the law.

Origin of Navel Oranges

Navel oranges, of which California sends out 8,000,000 boxes a year, were introduced into the United States from Brazil by the Department of Agriculture in 1870. The first experimental grove contained fewer than twenty trees. One of the original two trees brought here may be seen in Washington, D. C., still and the other is exhibited in California.

The geophone is an instrument invented during the World war for the purpose of detecting enemy mining operations. The first one was made by the French and had a radius of 75 yards. The United States developed one that had nearly one-third greater range.

GERMANY'S SHIPPING NOW RANKS SEVENTH

Gains in Volume After Slipping to Eleventh Place.

Hamburg, Germany.—German shipping claims to be fighting against tremendous odds in its attempt to regain its place in the sun. The loss of 90 per cent of the German commercial fleet through the war and the terms of surrender means that German shipowners practically have had to start anew. By taking up loans, buying back some of the ships delivered to the entente victors under the treaty of Versailles and refraining from paying dividends in recent years the shipping concerns of Germany have gradually worked up a postwar tonnage of 2,800,000 gross register tons, which is about one-half the German prewar tonnage and which comprises 4 per cent of the total world's tonnage as compared with 11 per cent in 1914.

From eleventh place in 1920 among the shipping nations of the world, Germany has moved to seventh place by 1924 as compared with second place in 1914.

Roedern Pictures Conditions.

Count Siegfried Roedern, chairman of the League of German Shipowners and Freighters, in a prepared statement replying to specific questions, gave the following picture of shipping conditions:

"In 1914 the German merchant marine occupied second place among the merchant fleets of the world as far as actual tonnage was concerned. It then comprised 5,200,000 gross register tons and was surpassed only by Great Britain.

"In the course of the war Germany lost about half of her ships through seizure, sinking, etc. Next, in accordance with the terms of the Versailles treaty, she had to give up approximately the second half. Included among the vessels that had to be turned over to the victors were all the larger passenger boats. By the peace treaty and the German legislation resulting therefrom German shipping was compelled to pay a part of the war bill immediately in kind by giving up not only the ships already in the service, but also those under construction.

"It was the sense of the treaty of Versailles that this delivery by private capital was to be regarded as a payment on account by the German empire and hence to be refunded to the individual concerns by the German state. The financial condition of the reich made complete indemnification impossible. An agreement was therefore reached between the government and the shipowners by which the latter were to receive an amount sufficient to rebuild but one-third of their prewar tonnage.

Inflation Makes Handicap.

"Because of the inflation of the last years the indemnity payments of the government did not suffice to rebuild the third of the old tonnage agreed upon. Besides, in distributing the government indemnity the small shipowners were to be given the preference, so that most of the larger concerns were able to finance a replacement program of but 20 per cent of the prewar tonnage out of the funds furnished by the government. The fact that the larger concerns nevertheless built on an average one-third of their old tonnage is due solely to their watering their stock and assuming new debts.

"Due to the fact that a number of small and middle-sized concerns were able to exceed this program and that several new companies have been founded the entire German merchant marine has now, upon completion of the reconstruction program, been brought to 2,800,000 tons—in other words, to about one-half of the prewar tonnage—both by new construction and through the repurchase of vessels delivered.

"Compared with the former fleet, the present comprises comparatively few purely passenger ships and more mixed freight-and-passenger vessels as well as freighters pure and simple. The fact that these newly constructed ships are equipped with modern machinery does not counterbalance the fact that the total value of the ships has depreciated over the prewar value.

Germany has taken up her principal former routes, such as those to North America, South America, the Orient, Dutch East Indies and Australia.

"The indemnity payments for the merchant vessels delivered were continued only until March, 1923. Since that time no additional payments have been made by the reich for the uncompleted part of the reconstruction program.

"The building program undertaken as a result of the indemnity payments is now complete to within four or five ships. It is self-evident that for years to come the building pace of the last years of reconstruction or even of the years before the war cannot be kept up."

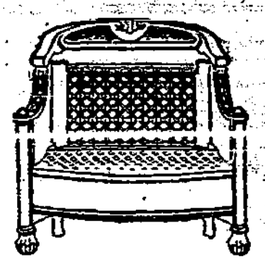
The Humphrey Radiantfire



What it will do---

It will flood your room with glowing radiant heat in one minute after lighting.

If you are cold, chilly or wet, it will warm and dry you in one minute.

It will give you the greatest joy and comfort you ever had in your house.

If you are sick, it is better than a doctor in your house.

It will save firing the furnace for two months in the fall and spring.

It will save a ton of coal a month in the winter time.

You can run it two days for the cost of lighting the furnace once.

It burns ordinary City Gas, and costs three cents an hour to run — using natural gas less than a cent an hour.

It will give you 4 to 8 times more heat than any other Gas fire.

It is absolutely and positively odorless. Without dust, dirt or ashes.

Why it does it--

Because of the high flame temperature and intensified combustion made possible by [illegible]

Because this heat coming in contact with lace-like Heating elements becomes further intensified, making them glow and become intensely hot.

Because this incandescent mass throws out pure Radiant Heat waves all over the lower part of the room, warming you instantly.

Because of these things there are no unburnt gases, therefore, no odor, and a perfect Hygienic fire and wonderful for a sick room.

Because of these things it is the most wonderful heating appliance in the world.

No Dirt, No Ashes, No Noise, No Bother, Perfect Safety, Ever Ready

MAYFLOWER DESCENDANTS.

Colonial pedigree societies are supposed to be patriotic in impulse and aim, but social exclusiveness is apt to be a marked feature, and too often the contentment of the membership appears to be conditioned on the smallness of their number. When such a society is threatened with too great expansion it is in danger of losing distinction and of ceasing to be a source of keen gratification to its members. If "everybody" or nearly everybody is taken in, as a troubled lady once frankly spoke out, "there is no honor in being a member." Possibly this explains the reported disturbance among the Mayflower descendants and the impression that its officers are disposed to tighten up the tests of admission. This Society now has 5077 members, and it would appear that this makes the honor of membership rather too common; a mere thousand elect would assure a much higher degree of satisfaction to the thousand elect.

The difficulty is that the natural tendency of humanity is to increase and multiply. A single Mayflower ancestor could do an incredible amount of this in 300 years, and the Mayflower had on board one hundred souls, no less than fifty of these being persons who afterward could have had several children, whose children could each have had several children, and whose grandchildren and more remote descendants could have multiplied prodigiously. Unless race suicide or decreased vigor has interfered during the third of the three centuries far more than is supposed, there ought to be 500,000 or a million, perhaps even five million persons now eligible to membership in the Society of Mayflower descendants. Happily—from the point of view of exclusive-minded members—it is probable that only a very small percentage of the actually eligible now know even who their grandfathers were, and thus no great mob of applicants is likely to disturb the society's peace.

The present membership ought to be reasonably happy in numbering only 5077, a fact indicating that the tests of admission are being kept quite sufficiently tight. It is complained that something is needed to "liven things up," that the celebrations consist too largely in long-winded and tedious historical essays, that the poems of the pilgrims lack pep, and that frequent pageants are desirable to keep the restless young folk interested. All this may be true, but so far as limited membership and exclusiveness are concerned, there is good reason for very general satisfaction.

In Society's Realm

The Frances Williard Class of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. R. V. Golden, 310 Meadow avenue, tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Bruse Barnett, Mrs. Harry Yon, Mrs. Tom Moore and Mrs. T. H. Warrensford as assistant hostesses.

The Northern Star Sisterhood, Number 107, Dames of Malta, will hold their annual corn roast this evening at the home of Mrs. Arch Baldwin, Lynn's Grove. This affair which is held every year, is looked forward to by all the members as one of the most enjoyable events of the season. A cordial invitation has been extended all members to be present.

At a business meeting of the social committee of the Zananna Bible class, held yesterday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the Methodist Episcopal church, plans were formulated for a Hallowe'en social to be held October 7 at the home of Mrs. Freenman Johnson, chairlady of the committee. Each member will be allowed to bring a friend and a good time is being anticipated.

Mrs. Adalph Bezy entertained the members of St. Jerome's Sewing Circle at her Maple Creek home last evening with an unusual good attendance. During the [illegible] business session, plans were made for an Apron social to be held in the Lyceum of the church, October 22. Games of 500 and euchre were enjoyed, the favors being presented to Mrs. James Reardon, Mrs. J. W. Cooper and Mrs. John Fitzgerald. Near the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Bezy served a very sumptuous luncheon. The next meeting is to be held October 8 in the Lyceum.

A delightful surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. L. Glassier of Conrad avenue, Monday evening, when a number of her friends gathered there to help celebrate her birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in dancing, music and cards, favors being awarded to Francis O'Rourke, Mrs. Bergen and Mrs. Glassier. At a late hour a delicious luncheon was served by Miss Margaret Glassier, who was assisted by [illegible] and Anna Lewis. The prevailing decorations were of autumn flowers. The honored guest received a number of beautiful and useful gifts.

Final arrangements were completed last night for the big card party to be held in the Lyceum of St Jerome's Roman Catholic church October 14, Mrs. C. J. Mogan, general chairlady at the regular monthly social meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America held Tuesday evening in the Lyceum. One of the largest attendances of the year turned out for this meeting, and following the short business session, a jolly time was spent in playing games, with Mrs. William McBride, chairlady of the entertainment and refreshment committee. Plans were formulated also for the annual Bingville, the date set for October 28. There will be an orchestra and the affair promises to be as big if not bigger than those of other years.

Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast, is an old maxim. But the man who dictated that line to his stenographer never had to sit for four days within hearing of the oft-repeated jazz strains of a merry-go-round.

"HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME" IS COMING

Local theatre-goers will have, commencing next Monday, their first opportunity of seeing the massive production which swept into over night fame in New York and made the critics so far forget themselves as to use up nearly the entire stock of laudatory adjectives in the English language in their reviews. As a general rule, success on Broadway does not always spell success here, but local theatre-goers who visited the Astor Theatre in New York, the first of the metropolitan runs, expressed the opinion that the hit will be even greater here, where Hugo's great work is so widely known. Seems like this is a reflection on Gotham's literary learnings.

From all advance accounts Universal has all the ingredients of a great success—a story that is internationally famous, that is replete with action, albeit somewhat gruesome, the greatest of character stars in Lon Chaney, an excellent supporting cast, studio facilities, and unlimited funds. It may be divulging a trade secret, but it has leaked out that Universal, to guard against the least chance of adverse criticism, called in the director of New York's greatest cinema houses and one of the leading newspaper editors and had them do the final touches. The result is said to mark the dawn of a new day in cinema art and one that has made Carl Laemmle's slogan of "Better and finer productions" an absolute fact.

Lon Chaney, admittedly the finest interpreter of unusual character roles on either stage or screen, plays the stellar part of "Quaismodo," with Ernest Torrence as "Clopin, the underworld king," and Patsy Ruth Miller as "Esmeralda." Seventy-two other noted performers have featured parts, while two hundred players interpret smaller roles with the mob scenes numbering slightly in excess of 3500 persons.

Some idea of the immensity of the production can be obtained when it is stated that the entire Cathedral of Notre Dame was reconstructed at Universal City, as well as eight blocks of Parisian streets and houses of the time of Louis XI. The total cost was a trifle less than $1,500,000.

"The Hunchback of Notre Dame" will be shown at the Majestic for four days, commencing next week, Monday.

Autumn Opening

Friday and Saturday

A tantalizing glimpse of the new modes for Fall. a lesson in the smart things to wear for that important season, an hour or two of keen pleasure—provided in our Autumn Opening on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Fall Millinery
Shapes and Shades Entrancing

Joy to the spirited girl. joy to the matron in the new Millinery modes for fall. With the roguish little felts and lizard skin Hats that have come for the former and the chic high crowned styles arrived for her Mother there is promise of Hat satisfaction for all. Further, for the street there are small brimmed sailors and many quill-trimmed Chapeaux, belting ribbon Hats and crushers of duvetyn. While for dress the Hat takes on larger proportions and is very likely to flaunt ostrich trim, double brim or bird of gay plumage. Interesting to note that pansy shades are fashion-favored and to see them with a tinge of red for youth.

Little Folks
Have Their Own Displays

The petite persons who hold your hearts in their hands are catered to in our Autumn Exposition. Master Bud and Mistress Mary may be outfitted from whirly curl to tiny toe with the smartness of their elders in our Children's Section. And it is not style alone that emerges from this section but sound value in the smallest item. Let brisk days coming see the wee ones in these newest of coats, hats, frocks and suits.

For a Gracious Home
This Autumn

With the fall of twilight each autumn evening, the Home scores its inning. Young and old hasten to it, rejoice in the sweet music of tinkling teacups and the radio's revelations, glean large pleasure from new books, new games, chats with good friends And just in proportion to its charm a home is successful in keeping afamily contented through sombre fall and long winter. Make yours a home unusual. Buy for it certain precious comforts. Visit and learn the new notes in decoration.

Fashionable Frocks
To Brighten Autumn

Fashion's notebook assigns for autumn afternoon occasions satin Frocks with dashing tunics, slashed, buttoned or bound in plaid; bengaline Dresses made partly like with huge bows at low waistlines; and some alpaces in light-hearted colors. While for street and business she calls softly tailored broadcloth and twill Frocks the best introducing Directoire and Spanish notes for spice. The Autumn Opening reveals the Frock story in interesting fashion. Attend and make note of what smartness you would like in your autumn wardrobe.

Wraps of Autumn
Choose Unusual Silhouettes

Fashion saw women wrapping their smart Coats closely about them, achieving a silhouette ever so narrow at the hem and rather full in the waist. Then striving diligently to please them further she designed these Wraps for fall, which follow the lines of a dolman so closely Puff sleeves appear occasionally and a lining of plaid enlivens one or two Follow this mode or choose a straightline Wrap with furic border of fur —your style-right appearance is assured.

The Smartest Suits
Are Ensemble Costumes

The suit that triumphs this Fall is an ensemble costume, consisting of seven-eighth length coat and frock akin to it in decoration and color You will remember the ensemble's first appearance, its acceptance, its general becomingness; and you will realize how much one can mean to you when you see the newer modes. Tawny shades were chosen to enhance your loveliness and suede-finished fabrics to bring out their richness most charmingly. These are practical costumes, accommodating for so many occasions.

Autumn's Fabrics Have Come

It's a thorough delight to fashion a wardrobe one's self if the Fabrics one has to work with are charming and easy to drape. There will be many softly tailored frocks so smart for fall made at home this season for almost never before were Fabrics so likable Suede-finished woolens and silky broadcloths enter with striped twills, shiny satins and cashmere woolens to charm the trained or amateur sewer

EFFECTIVE REMEDY FOR PEACH BORER

An easy, inexpensive means of combatting the peach tree borer, which has been a constant menace to the industry, has been found. One hundred per cent control may be secured by using volatile salt, paradichlorobenzene about the trunk of the tree in the fall of the year without injury to the tree.

This material volatizes into a heavy gas which works down into the soil and gases the borer in his tunnel. In this section this treatment should be done from September 15 to October 10, allowing four or five weeks open weather before severe freezing occurs.

At three demonstration meetings held by the Extension Association last week 60 peach growers who were in attendance were impressed with the short time required for this treatment and a majority are planning to treat their peach orchards by [illegible] for the application of this chemical can be secured through the Agricultural Extension Association (Farm Bureau.)
